

Abstract

Files are protected against intrusion. A first embodiment protects certain files against changes. A second embodiment encrypts the files that are stored using 5 user's personal information.